Best Bang for the Buck Award in EDMS Markets Goes to Liberty Information Management Solutions

Palo Alto, Calif. — May 9, 2005 — Frost & Sullivan's recent analysis, U.S. Electronic Document Management Systems Markets for Healthcare, selected Liberty Information Management Solutions (Liberty IMS) as the recipient of the 2005 Best Bang for the Buck Award.

Each year, the Award is given to a company that offers customers a solution and/or service, which provides the highest ratio of value to cost. The Award also lauds the high quality of the product that is coupled with extremely competitive pricing.

Liberty IMS is one of the few organizations to recognize the potential of the U.S. electronic document management systems (EDMS) market for healthcare, and is among the fastest growing and fundamentally strong companies in this sector.

Healthcare settings in the United States are currently undergoing budget constraints and most end users are looking for an EDMS solution that is comprehensive in functions and affordable at the same time.

"Liberty IMS has a broad approach toward EDMS markets and focuses on providing customized information management solutions to clients by involving them in the product development," says Frost & Sullivan Industry Analyst Natesh S. Kare. "This strategy makes its flagship platform, LibertyNET, the suitable combination of EDMS utilities for healthcare clients, and at an affordable price."

LibertyNET is a rich suite of scalable, turnkey EDMS applications that incorporate a wide range of healthcare requirements through either a Web-based, integrated interface, or thick-client platform. This solution is capable of accommodating various kinds of data forms processed within a heterogeneous healthcare environment.

Healthcare settings generate a huge quantity of information ranging from patient demographics and disease history to claims-related and hospital administration-related information. LibertyNET can not only capture, share, and manage each of these data forms, but also can ensure regulatory compliance in order to meet the requirements of its healthcare clients.

Liberty IMS has also developed partnerships with large corporations such as Hewlett-Packard (HP) and Sharp Electronics Corp. in order to enhance its value addition to the healthcare clients and meet value-for-money requirements that EDMS clients desire.

With a focused marketing campaign, Liberty IMS is likely to expand more significantly within this market and is the rightful recipient of the 2005 Frost & Sullivan Best Bang for the Buck Award in the EDMS markets for healthcare.
